

Register a Data Protection or Website Complaint

Complaints relating to Data Protection or website content in the first instance should be made in writing to the Data Controller who will gather factual evidence from the relevant people and make contact promptly with the complainant.

If the Data Controller is unable to resolve the matter, then the complainant will be advised to contact the Society Chairman in writing.

Under the General Data Protection Regulations 2018 persons wishing to complain about a possible breach of the legislation have the right to contact the Information Commissioner www.ico.gov.uk
